Who are we?

At Office Objects we offer a comprehensive turn-key interior solution to our clients in the corporate office environment. From empty shell to finished product, we strive to stay on the cutting edge of the ever-changing office environment. Since 1999 we have consistently rendered services of a high standard and delivering products of good quality. Through our collective knowledge and expertise gained through the years, we are able to provide almost any service or “object” that you might need to tailor make your work space according to your particular need. As project managers offering single point accountability, it is our desire to constantly push the boundaries of service excellence whilst serving our clients with integrity.

Office Objects is a proud member of the Unashamedly Ethical community. The main aim of this campaign is to promote and uphold ethics, values and clean living.

Office Objects is currently in the midst of a restructuring initiative whereby 51% of its ownership will be transferred to a BBBEE trust and non profit company. A letter issued by Amax SA confirming this matter is available upon request. We also hold a CIDB grading of 6GB.

Mission Statement

Through service excellence, integrity and honesty, making a difference by: consistently rendering and delivering comprehensive turn-key interior services, products and advice of a high standard to our clients in the corporate office environment; empowering our employees; uplifting our community.

Through service excellence, making a difference!

What do we do?

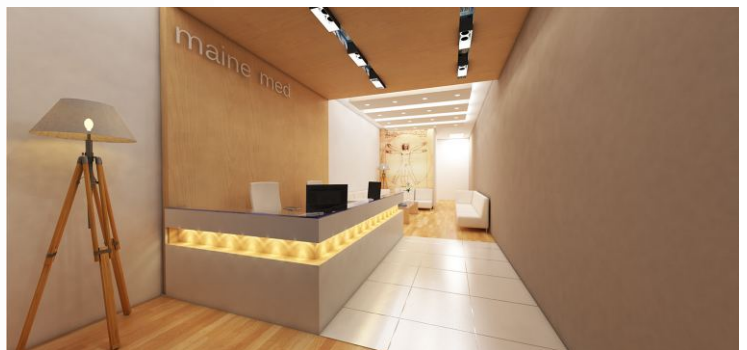

With almost 25 years collective experience as a team, our qualified staff have built up extensive and expert knowledge in all the below areas and our teams are well trained in all aspects of the modern office environment. Where we cannot provide a service in-house, we partner with qualified and professional service providers with whom, in most instances, we have longstanding and proven relationships.

Our comprehensive turn-key services can be summarized as follows, but are not limited to that which is mentioned:

Architectural Design and Space Planning:

When designing a work space, we keep in mind the corporate culture within the business as well as its work flow, processes and core business. Interior finishes chosen are aimed at enhancing the work performance and general well being of all who work or visit there.
